South-South Cooperation

Organized by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR)
and the University for Peace (UPEACE)

Thursday 18 May 2023
13:30 – 15:00 hours CET
Room XXIV, Palais des Nations, Geneva, Switzerland
(Hybrid format)

You are most welcome to join our hybrid side event when we will share findings from an ongoing collaborative study by OHCHR and UPEACE. The project analyses the dynamic relationship between South-South Cooperation (SSC) and the Right to Development (RTD). It explores how RTD principles can be instrumental in ensuring the success of SSC projects, and likewise, how the operational principles of SSC can contribute to realizing the RTD and all human rights, in a complimentary and mutually reinforcing manner

 The paper examines three case studies on transformative development projects between India and Antigua and Barbuda, South Africa and the Comoros Islands, and Brazil and Angola.

 The event will shed light on insights and perspectives on the operationalization of the RTD in SSC and the complementarity of SSC in implementing the RTD to realize human rights and sustainable development including the Sustainable Development Goals.

 Join us to engage with fellow participants and share experiences, best practices and lessons learned and to promote a constructive dialogue on SSC and RTD.
